

REDEMPTORIST RENEWAL CENTER

AT PICTURE ROCKS

...a desert spiritual life center

Private Writing Retreat & Writing Hermitages

Located at the foothills of Tucson Mountains, the Redemptorist Renewal Center provides quiet facilities for writers to exercise their creativity and spirituality. Our primary focus is on uninterrupted individual writing time. The writers meet daily with a faculty member. The writers can set up their own schedules with sustained writing time. They will have a room and appropriate meals with a reasonable fee.

The Center also provides writing hermitages: These are self-contained, air-conditioned hermitages for work on your manuscript or just take creative time for yourself. The hermitages are our popular features available any length of time and all year round. Meals are included. A faculty member is also available for discussion, if writers so choose.
